Jury Sent to Bed

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—An all-male jury was sent to bed today 10 1/2 hours after it began deliberating the fate of Benjamin Feldman, 41, Brooklyn druggist twice convicted of murdering his wife.

The 12 tired, unshaven men deliberated all night. Several times they came into court for further instructions from Kings County Judge Carmine J. Marasco. The jurors had breakfast and deliberated half an hour when Judge Marasco called them into the courtroom at 10:30 a. m. Asked if they had reached a verdict, the foreman said they had been unable to agree. The judge told the men he felt they could not do justice without rest, and that they would be sent to a hotel to remain until 5 p. m. At that hour, he said, they were to return to resume deliberations.

No Gifts for Teacher

Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 23 (AP)—The Bethlehem school board has turned thumbs down on Christmas gifts for the teacher—too much competition between little Johnny and his classmates, Joseph W. Fodge, superintendent of schools, said yesterday board members decided the competitive nature of the gift giving among school children had become too expensive for smaller income families to bear.

Not that an occasional apple or cookie for the teacher is objectionable, Fodge said. It's just that children who can't afford expensive Christmas presents sometimes have given way to a feeling of frustration.

Chimney Fire Reported

The Bloomingville Fire Department was called at 11:55 a. m. today to check a chimney fire at a house owned by Arthur Tyler in Eddyville. Damage was slight.

East Kingston Home Is Damaged by Fire

Fire of unknown origin, damaged the north end of the Charles Pugliese home on John street in East Kingston, Tuesday afternoon, according to James A. Costello, chief of the volunteer fire department there.

Chief Costello was unable to report what caused the fire or give the exact amount of damage. However, he told the press that flames swept from the cellar to the attic on the one corner of the house, and that water did considerable harm as it was poured onto the blaze by 20 volunteers.

First to see the fire, according to Costello, was Pugliese's son, Michael, who sounded the alarm at 4:30 o'clock calling the department which is one of the newest in the county volunteer system. The department's pumper, with a 250 gallon tank, was used to pump water from the Pugliese eastern, and extinguishers also were played on the flames to extinguish them.

50 Persons Are Homeless

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Some 50 persons were left homeless last night by a fire that swept through three residential structures in Brooklyn. Firemen, who fought the blaze in below-freezing temperatures, said it started from an overheated oil burner on the second floor of a three-story frame dwelling at 963 Glenmore avenue. The fire spread to structures at 961 and 965 Glenmore. One person injured in the fire was taken to a hospital. Another was treated for smoke poisoning. Temporary care for the homeless was provided by the city welfare department.

Shapiro Is Appointed

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—George M. Shapiro, 28, of New York city, has been appointed to the $12,500-a-year post of assistant counsel to Governor Dewey.

Shapiro, named yesterday, succeeds Lawrence E. Walsh of Albany, who resigned recently to become counsel to the Public Service Commission. Since 1945, Shapiro has been a confidential law assistant on the staff of Charles D. Brietel, Dewey's counsel. Shapiro, a World War 2 veteran, attended Long Island University and received his law degree from Columbia University.

Foils Burglars

Chicago (AP)—There are thieves, they say, who will take anything that isn't nailed down. A couple of burglars of that type got into the Seng Teaming Company garage.

They fastened one end of a chain to a truck and looped the other around the safe. The truck growled but didn't move. The burglars growled and did. The safe was bolted to the floor.

May Ask Increases
New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Appeals for fare increases by two New York city bus companies appeared in the office today after their 3,300 employees won a five-cents-an-hour wage increase. The wage boost, along with other benefits, was granted yesterday to employees of the Fifth Avenue Coach Company and the New York City Omnibus Corp. by Arbitrator Sidney Sugarman.

Declares Spending Like Slot Machine

Brewster, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—Some federal spending programs are "just like a slot machine," says Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and "you never get out what you put in."

He gave federal aid to education proposals as an example last night as he addressed a dinner of the Republican Club of Southeast, N.Y.

Dewey backed the $1,610,000 building program planned for Beth Israel Hospital as he spoke at ceremonies opening its 60th year.

Condemning "the straight jacket of government inflexibility," he said privately financed hospitals provide service "you can't get in anything the government runs."

Discussing governmental delay in many fields, Dewey mentioned a letter in a Buffalo newspaper written by a veteran of three wars.

The veteran recalled that although a railroad grade crossing had been scheduled for removal when he was four years old, it was not taken out until recently.

The letter said Grover Cleveland promised to remove the crossing while he was mayor of Buffalo—but he went on to the governorship and presidency, and the crossing remained.

"Drawing laughs from his audience of 1,000, Dewey said 'I was able to be present at ceremonies celebrating the removal of the tracks in Buffalo because I was elected governor and not president.'"

The $1,610,000 construction and modernization of Beth Israel Hospital is to be financed by a grant from the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies' $54,000,000 building fund.

After addressing the Republican meeting last night, Dewey went to his home at Pawling.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS
Help 15 Million of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

When kidneys function properly, they remove the waste from your blood. If they fail, you may experience backache, rheumatism, muscle pain, loss of energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent urination, passing white and burning, sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your doctor for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's gives kidney relief and helps the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

partner with the gun kills the keeper of the candy store.

"It will avail the second man nothing to claim an agreement with his partner that no one was to be killed," he writes. "Even if his partner corroborate the agreement and say that he shot without the consent of his companion, it would avail the latter nothing. Once you enter a criminal partnership you are bound by the acts of your partners."

But the analogy fails because we have adopted laws declaring these hostile acts to be crimes. The purposes of the Soviet Union as to the United States are hostile and, in effect, criminal. All Communists are agents of the enemy and all fellow-travelers accomplices. But Judge Hand knows, too, that we have no laws to this effect and that, therefore, to say a man is a Communist is no worse than to say that he is a Republican or that he is a Jew.

Indeed, as I have observed before, the Supreme Court, in a side-long remark by Felix Frankfurter, has held that it was only in the fair game and take of curbstone repartee in a picketing case to call the owner of a restaurant Fascist. And that was done when Fascism was much more widely and angrily recognized as our enemy than Communism is today.

Thus, we have a Supreme Court decision excusing the charge of Fascism, but loyal citizens, persecuted and put to enormous expense and suffering for citing established facts in public, cannot get a ruling one way or another from the same court on the allowability of a charge of Communism. The court decides that it will hear and it has never seen fit to decide whether it is equally allowable to call a man a Communist.

The court admitted in the restaurant case that the charge of Fascism was false and likely to be harmful, but still held that no wrong was done.

Mrs. McCullough only remarked that she desired not to contribute money to Draper, a dainty dancer, and Adler, a mountaineer, because reports of a Congressional committee had said they were associated with Communist fronts.

She is undertaking to prove that the Congressional committee did make these statements and, moreover, to prove that they did belong to the fronts. She did not say Draper and Adler were Communists. But Judge Hand's pernicious decision has been extended so far that it has now become hazardous to mention the words Communist or "Fellow-Traveler" in the same text with the name of an individual of notorious conduct and association.

The decision in the Harry Bridges case kicked Judge Hand right in the teeth where it held that Bridges could collaborate with the Communists in numberless activities all leading toward their final, criminal purpose of violent revolution, providing that in the nick of time he should stop and refrain. That, of course, is just as silly as Judge Hand's affected and showy pretense at reasoning and this absolute collision of the Supreme Court with the Court of Appeals leaves the citizen to roll his own law. In the Bridges case, Justice Douglas says you have to make a blood test to establish membership in the Communist Party whereas old Hand says, you can't even speculate on the symptoms shown by a flagrant case.

You mustn't speculate though the suspect be broken out all over and no Department of the State or

Committed to Hospital

Los Angeles, Nov. 23 (AP)—Craig Rice, author of many hard-boiled whodunits, has been committed to a state hospital as an alcoholic. Her daughter, Mrs. Nancy Atwill, told a psychiatrist court yesterday that 41-year-old Miss Rice has used liquor to excess for four or five years and needs institutional care. The court ordered the writer of "The Lucky Stiff" and "Tial by Fury" to Camarillo State Mental Hospital for an indefinite period. Several of her books have been made into movies. The detective story novelist recently filed a divorce suit against her fourth husband, Henry W. DeMott, Jr., 29, but later said she loved him and wanted a reconciliation. She divorced her third husband, Novelist Lawrence Sanders, in 1947.

Must Use Less Water

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—New York city's public must cut its water consumption immediately. If they want to avoid the lowering of water pressure, a city official warned yesterday. Because of the recent drought, reservoirs were reported to be only about 40 per cent of capacity. The warning came from Stephen S. Carney, commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity. He said lowering of pressure would mean that, wherever plumbing facilities are inadequate, there probably would be no water for upper floors of buildings during periods of peak consumption.

Moses really originated the first Thanksgiving Day by issuing this splendid proclamation to the children of Israel:

"After thou hath gathered in the corn and the wine thy shall rejoice thy feast."

George Washington instituted the first Thanksgiving Day in the United States. He proclaimed November 26, 1789 to be a national day of Thanksgiving and prayer for the Constitution of the United States.

Wife—I wonder how Thanksgiving originated?
Husband—It was probably instituted by parents whose sons had survived the football season.

Thanksgiving
Bow your head, America... and breathe a fervent prayer! Give thanks to God for Freedom, and for sons who bravely dare to sacrifice their lives to keep Old Glory flying there.

Wherever wrongs need righting—give thanks this day in prayer.

—Violet Hinds

Thanksgiving
November with Thanksgiving Day brings forth glad notes of praise.

But in the rush of busy life we take the other days.

So richly blessed, as our just dues, and use them one by one.

Then thoughtlessly we fail to speak our thanks when day is done.

The daily thought of gratitude, the daily prayer we say.

Will make the best November hours a real Thanksgiving Day.

—Lillian Beck

Thanksgiving
Let us give thanks in church and temple

For peace and plenty within the state,

For grace as told in song and story,

For heaven and home when the hour is late.

General Interested In G.O.P. Selection In Farley Opinion

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—James A. Farley says he thinks General Eisenhower is "interested" in the Republican nomination for President.

But the former Democratic national chairman says he believes Eisenhower would not be as strong a candidate in 1952 as he would have been last year.

Farley did not elaborate on this in an interview last night. His comments came a few hours after Eisenhower told newsmen in Cincinnati.

"I'll repeat what I've been saying all along. I am not now seeking a political position and I have not intention of doing so."

Farley turned aside a question on whether he was interested in the Democratic nomination for governor next year by stating:

"I'm not going to talk 1950 New York state politics this evening."

The former postmaster general said the 1948 elections indicated the country is still leaning toward the Democratic Party.

Farley said he did not think the defeat of Republican John Foster Dulles in the U. S. Senate contest Nov. 8 was necessarily a defeat for Governor Dewey.

He asserted that Dulles made an "excellent run" against Herbert H. Lehman, the Democratic Liberal candidate.

Farley declined to comment on whether he thought Dewey would seek a third term as governor next year.

But, he said, there is "no doubt in my mind" that Governor Dewey has indicated the desire for another shot at the presidency.

Farley spoke last night at a forum sponsored by the Evangelical Catholic newspaper.

He said in the address that the threat of "peace today" springs from the unholy ambition of one power—Soviet Russia—to dominate every way of life in every place in the world.

He added:

"It is my solemn conviction that the world will survive as a family of nations."

During a discussion period after the speech, Farley said the fear recognition of Spain by the United States was "bound to come."

Farley, who visited Spain during a recent European tour and talked with Generalissimo Franco, declared:

"I can't understand for the life of me the reasons for our not recognizing Spain. We are spending millions to rehabilitate Germany and other European countries. We are doing all we can to fight Communism. And here is Spain out there all alone. The Spanish people, as such, are friendly to the United States. And they do not want gifts, but only loans for rehabilitation."

The meat markets of the United States employ 47,798 people, with a payroll of $51,000,000.

SPEAKING OF OPERATIONS

Jimmy Lenahan, at home in Arlington, Va., in his mother's arms, isn't talking about it at the age of ten weeks, but the baby has spent nearly a fourth of his life in three different hospitals. Born prematurely Sept. 12, he came back home a week later. When he was three weeks old, some food strangled him, requiring hospital treatment. On Nov. 14, he entered another hospital for hernia and appendix operations. Jimmy weighed five pounds, 10 ounces at birth and now tips scales at 11 pounds. (A.P. Wirephoto)

Thetford Identifies Woman as Sister

New Orleans, Nov. 23 (AP)—

State police Tuesday said William Thetford, Windham, N. Y., hotel manager, identified the Auburn, Maine, woman who leaped from Huey Long Bridge as his sister, Ruth Thetford.

The hotel chain employee identified the girl last night after driving from Del Ray, Fla., where he is temporarily working for the hotel firm.

State Police Lt. Francis Moore said a trooper accompanied Thetford to Charity Hospital where the woman identified her immediately.

Thetford told police that she was 35 years old and had left their mother's Long Island home about two years ago and that the family had lost contact with her.

Thetford announced plans to stay in New Orleans until his sister is released from the hospital and then take her back to Florida with him.

The girl's identity had been a mystery until the brother's arrival last night. In a state of shock, she had murmured to hospital authorities that her name was Doris Finley and her home was Seattle, Wash.

She later amended this to Doris Bentley and finally said her name was Ruth Thetford and that her brother lived in Windham, N. Y.

Inquiry in Windham traced the hotel manager to Florida where he was contacted for possible identification.

The girl jumped last Friday from the highest part of the majestic bridge which spans the Mississippi river. A large black case she wore billowed like a parachute and partly checked her 135-foot fall.

Part of Load Is Found

Chicago, Nov. 23 (AP)—A stolen truck was found abandoned yesterday with half of its $40,000 load of liquor still intact.

Lead of liquor still intact. Arnold Bailey, 38, of Webster City, Ia., the driver, reported it stolen sometime Sunday night or early Monday from a street where he had parked it. Police found it behind a signboard in a vacant lot on South Michigan avenue near the downtown district. Bailey had driven the truck from Peckskill, N. Y., to a terminal warehouse in Chicago. He left it stand on the street because the warehouse was closed Sunday when he arrived.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

Economic affairs are moving so fast these days it is impossible for us to obtain a balanced perspective.

"This came to mind forcibly recently as I was editing a manuscript on American finance, with especial emphasis on speculation. (If I may be permitted a personal plug I expect the book will be out early in 1950.)

Speculation has played a far greater role in the financial history of American industries and railroads than many people realize.

When one looks back at the various critical periods in American finance—and at the crisis of booming business and speculation—the finds events recurring with surprising similarity.

I do not mean to imply that "history repeats itself" in exactly the same fashion each time the cycle revolves. It does not, of course. Sometimes the "booming" has been in land, again it has been in bank notes, and in commodity.

At other times there has been rampant speculation in stocks. Do not for a moment think that the years 1928 and 1929 were the only years when stock speculation gripped the American public. The public has jumped in with both feet and borrowed money on several occasions during the past century and a half.

Doubtless speculation in stocks will become a mania again sometime, but when no one can foresee, obviously, as it is a "psychological" phenomenon.

It may be suggested, however, that the present-day philosophy of "easy money" and a bootstrap system of economic management are likely to lead to harmful speculation at some stage in the inflation cycle.

At the moment, speculative sentiment appears relatively dormant. The prevailing sentiment seems rather more to be on the side of "security" than on the side of "let's take a chance; maybe we'll get rich overnight."

If the inflationary forces that are now slumbering once again come awake with a start—you know, like throwing a cold sponge at a heavy sleeper—then look out, the idea of safety and security may give way to the contrary mania of careless and thoughtless speculation. This is the warning from history, as I read it—but history never tells us how to "time" these shifts in public sentiment.

Another series of events, aside from speculation in stocks or farms or commodities, that one finds in running back over our financial background are the influences from international developments.

Time and again what has happened in Europe has had repercussions over here.

At this moment every nation in western Europe is struggling to regain its economic balance—with the help of our billions. We cannot expect to escape these influences. In bolstering up a large portion of the world of course we weaken our own stability. It cannot be avoided, but we should be aware of it.

Take the devaluation of the pound sterling, just as an example. In the free money markets today the pound is selling at discounts of twenty cents or more below the devaluation figure of $2.82 set by Sir Stafford Cripps. This reflects the monetary difficulties still predominant in the finances of Great Britain.

Currency devaluations are a practice that history frowns upon. Devaluation has been prevalent, for centuries, but always causes disaster. Devaluation as entered into abroad today "is the modern equivalent of medieval coin-clipping," Henry Hazlitt points out in his "NEWSWEEK" column this week. Getting down to hard words, devaluation may be termed "monetary management" but in reality is "merely a high-sounding euphemism for continuous currency debasement," continues Hazlitt—and further that "instead of automatic currencies based on gold people are forced to take managed currencies based on guile. Instead of precious metals they hold paper promises whose value falls with every bureaucratic whim."

I have emphasized devaluation of currencies, with these strong quotations, because a monetary manipulation is as old as money itself. Severe economic readjustment, history tells us, usually follows close on the heels of the exhaustion of the stimulation from the currency debasement.

These are only a few of the events now in our midst that history warns us to observe thoughtfully. Today we are in a particularly precarious spot. Momentous economic experiments are being tried in one sector of the world while in another hovers the specter of war and totalitarianism. At the moment, we at home are lounging comfortably in the hammock of good business, booming dividends, and fantastic give-away programs. And only a few short weeks away is the additional bonanza of huge refunds and bonuses to veterans that will exceed $3 billion.

Where will it all lead? It would be foolhardy to predict. The past record suggests that when events have piled up as they are now piling up the final result has indeed made history.

McKenney on Bridge Army Colonel Uses His Head on Hand

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for N.Y. Service

I recently attended a meeting at the Army and Navy Club in Washington with Dr. Earl J. McGrath, Commissioner of Education, and Dr. R. I. Grigsby, his assistant. We were discussing the problem of the education of the American war orphan, a hobby of mine.

After the luncheon I dropped into the card room at the club, and found games of bridge, canasta and gin rummy all in progress. I picked up a problem or two for my canasta column, then pulled up a chair behind Col. E. B. Gray, who has been an ardent bridge fan for years. Poor health limits the colonel's tournament activities, but he still enjoys rubber bridge at the club.

It is interesting to watch a military man play bridge, because he is almost invariably a careful strategist. Many of us would make a mistake on today's hand, but not Colonel Gray. He won the opening lead of the five of diamonds in dummy with the king, then led a small heart, and East jumped up with the ace. Would you follow with the four-spot if you were declarer? I told you it is easy to make a mistake on this hand.

The colonel thought for a while. Why had East jumped up with the ace of hearts? He finally decided that it had been either a blank ace or the ace and jack, and when I saw the colonel play the ten of hearts from his hand instead of the four, I knew he was on his toes.

East returned another diamond, which had to be won in dummy with the ace. The colonel led a club back to his queen, cashed the king of hearts, and East's jack fell. Now the colonel had the four of hearts to play to dummy, finesse the eight-spot and cash the heart queen.

If he had played the four of hearts under the ace, he could have cashed the king and ten, but he would have had no entry to get into dummy to make the queen, the needed ninth trick.

Today's Business Mirror

By RADER-WINGET
(For Sam Dawson)

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Queer quirks of men and nature provide some strange barriers to global plans for changing international trade patterns.

Sometimes these schemes turn out all to the good; sometimes they don't.

Since the war the general idea has been to balance up world supply and world demand so that everybody has everything they want.

Roughly, this has been approached along two lines. First, take surplus food and commodities from one area and send them where there is a scarcity. Second, create the ability to produce a commodity in an area where it is needed.

These plans actually aren't new. The ideas and even some of the objections to them have been met before.

One big production plan isn't working right now in British Tanganyika, East Africa. The government in London just fired two of the top men who planned and helped develop a 3,200,000-acre peanut farm in East Africa to give the empire all the peanuts it could use for food and oil.

The British could have bought their peanuts in the United States, but that would require dollars. So they spent £23,200,000, of which there is no shortage, in the last three years, clearing the bush and planting peanuts. But there were troubles. The African bushmen didn't work hard enough, they couldn't get the right machinery for clearing and cultivating, it rained at the wrong time and didn't rain at the right time. Result: No peanuts to speak of.

Despite setbacks, Parliament yesterday decided to go ahead but cut the plan back to one-fifth the original size.

The United States Army tried in 1857 to import and use a foreign commodity—camels. They wanted the camels to carry troops and supplies in arid areas of southwestern United States. It was as revolutionary in concept as the British peanut plan. But it didn't work. The army by now has decided the camel never will replace the Jeep.

In one barter deal today, the United States is having difficulty matching a shortage and surplus. The government has some $2,680,000,000 tied up in surplus farm products.

One phase of the plan to dispose of the surplus involves trading a part of it to foreign governments for materials we need here.

India needs grain and we need strategic war materials. The idea was to ship 37,500,000 bushels of wheat and other grain to India in exchange for manganese ore, mica or jute. But there are reports the Indians are reluctant to barter because they can sell their raw materials for dollars any time. With those dollars they can buy anything, even wheat, at an advantage price.

French Plan Recalled

Barter deals recall a little-known French plan to trade us wine for a pipeline. During the war the U. S. Army moved gasoline in a giant pipeline from tanks docked at Marseille on the Mediterranean to a point near Paris. The army threw down the portable pipeline in a hurry, guarded pumpers stations with troops who shot anything that moved near the precious line, and pumped a flood of gasoline into trucks, jeeps, tanks and planes.

When the war ended, some French promoters proposed buying the line and pumping wine from the lush French and African vineyards to Paris—the army to be paid in wine. The scheme went well until the Frenchmen figured out the cost of burying the line, building permanent pumper stations, hiring workmen and paying taxes. The deal fell through with some regret on the part of parched G.I.s.

In current talk of building up wheat production in backward areas, some Latin American countries are reported to be concerned over competition from such areas as Africa. They fear their own producers might be driven out of the world market.

Similar fears of competition were expressed right here in the United States a number years ago when the American automobile industry started erecting plants in Europe to build cars. The cry then was, that we were killing off our own valuable foreign markets—cutting our own business throat.

But this year we are going to make 6,000,000 cars and trucks in this country alone. Sales are the highest ever, profits never were better, and foreign competition never is given a thought.

In other words, you never can tell how these things are going to turn out, no matter how grand the scheme or how much money is poured into it.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BLUM
New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—The main thing wrong with American womanhood is women.
A man who tries to do these forlorn daughters of Eve a favor is just a moon calf. It always backfires on him.
Particularly is a mere man foolish to try to give them any advice in the magic realm of love. Herewith is a postmortem on a little attempt I made!

Knowing that I am a woman's whole existence, I checked to see if I couldn't find them a shortcut in this field to save wear and tear on their claws.

My inquiry disclosed that—Dr. Kinsey to the contrary—the greatest lovers are men in their 40s. This truth was confirmed by Dorothy Dix and the fact that the eight top-drawing male film stars are all 40-plus.

You would think that this discovery would be hailed by the ladies as a great timesaver for them. No longer need they waste their own romantic prime trying to rob a teen-age cradle or making 500-100 eyes at Civil War veterans. They could go ahead and concentrate on their real prey—the men of two-score years and slightly more.

But what happens?

My research reaped only a crop of feminine catcalls of derision. I have space for only two.

Feared a widow in Hutchinson, Kan.,
"Romantic old devils nothing—they're concatted old puppies."
"The 40- to 50-year-old daddy with the cash might have a chance. But he'd be lucky if he found one young girl in a hard row of stumps willing to make the sacrifice and put up with his indigestion, bad breath, please, lady—false teeth, bald head and a dozen other ailments."
And the dear old widow concluded joyously:

"Daddy, oh daddy, I know what I'm talking about. I look a couple of old pot-bellies to a good cleaning myself when I was a bewitching young lady. Pink this and give the old pot-bellies something to think about."

An equal hoot came from a 34-year-old wife in Ashland, Ky., who said her husband was 33 "and I wouldn't wish him to be one day older."

"Just where you old men get the idea you are attractive is a mystery to me."

"Let me tell you why the popular men film stars are over 40. These men are made up to look young, they are excellent actors and they don't have bald heads and potbellies. And, last but not least, the girls don't have to touch their loose, flabby cheeks."
(Editor's Note: She has you

Cold, Cloudy Weather Is Holiday Forecast

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—There'll be a nip in the air and skies will be partly cloudy over New York state Thanksgiving Day.

The weather bureau also predicts snow flurries for mountainous areas.

Temperatures today were expected to be milder than yesterday, when the readings were the lowest so far this season. Some light snow was forecast for this afternoon and tonight.

"Tomorrow, the weather bureau said, will be 'slightly colder'."

Frozen snow and rain glazed many highways yesterday and one death in Delaware county was attributed to the slippery conditions. Edward N. McLaurry, of Kortright Center, was injured fatally when his car skidded and crashed into a tree.

there, Boyle.)

(Boyle's Note: A girl that fastidious can always wear cotton gloves.)

And the Ashland wife wound up thus:

"Don't ever think any young girl marries an old man for his sex appeal. It is always for his dollars or acres appeal. The sooner men find this out, the happier they will be."

All I can say to these ladies is: go back to Vice President Barkley, dearies. Who is in Shangri-La today—or the widow from Missouri?

Barry Walks Free, Goes to Cemetery

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Staring straight ahead, white-haired Arthur Barry walked slowly down the courthouse corridor and outside.

For the first time in 19 years, the one-time jewel burglar, king of Long Island was free to go where he pleased—and he headed for a graveyard.

He said he wanted to visit the Gate of Heaven Cemetery at Valhalla, N. Y., where Anna Blake, the woman he says was his wife, lies buried.

The 58-year-old Barry got a suspended sentence yesterday from Nassau county Judge Henry J. A. Collins in Mineola, N. Y. Last week, Barry pleaded guilty to six felony indictments growing out of the $100,000 burglary in 1927 of the home of financier Jesse L. Livermore and burglaries years ago of four other fashionable residences.

He had been arrested on the old charges immediately after he was released recently from Attica State Prison where he served 19 years for a $60,000 jewel burglary.

The judge told Barry he had paid his debt to society, but that he would be under supervision of probation authorities for the rest of his life.

District Attorney Frank A. Gulotta had recommended the suspended sentence, saying that Barry was a changed, repentant man.

In the heyday of his crime career, Barry looted wealthy homes of a police-estimated four to 10 million dollars in jewels. Most of it never has been recovered.

"In those days, it was easy come, easy go," he told Gulotta. "There isn't anything left. If there was—even a cufflink—I'd tell you about it."

Barry had about $50 in his pocket as he left the courthouse. Gulotta said Barry will seek permission to live with a sister in Massachusetts, and that he has been offered a job in a grocery store.

The area of American Samoa is 75 square miles.

SHOKAN

Shokan, Nov. 23.—Worden L. Castle, 63, who died Sunday at the home in Harlem of his cousin, Mrs. George W. Kenny (the former Wealtha Delamater of Shokan) was a native of Olive Younger son of Mr. and Mrs. William Castle whose farm home was along the old Shokan-Brown Station road. He attended the Shokan school and the Methodist Church of which his father was a member of the board. He had been connected with several fire insurance firms and previous to 1946 was with Johnson & Higgins, underwriters, of which firm he was a director. Mr. Castle resided on 12th street, Manhattan, and also spent considerable time at his place in Woodstock where he was a member of the Country Club. He had been in poor health for the past several years. An older brother, Walter, who moved to Woodstock, died some years ago. The funeral service was held Tuesday, Nov. 22, in New York. Interment was in the Hudson Cemetery, Mt. Tremper.

Helga Viertel, who recently came to reside with her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Rosenbusch, is taking a commercial course at the Mohonk Business School. Miss Viertel formerly was in the employ of a construction firm engaged in government work on Oklahoma.

A free Christmas movie show by Sam Davis for the children of the Ontario central district will be shown at Phenixia Thursday afternoon, Dec. 22. The pupils of the Ashokan school made the largest sale of tickets—29 adults and 22 children—for the free show given at Phenixia several weeks ago.

James Forrest Sanborn, widely known civil engineer, who died on November 12 in Flamingham, Mass., at the age of 73, was prominently identified with Ashokan River and Catskill Aqueduct construction 35-40 years ago. Before coming to take charge of preliminary surveys for the Northern Aqueduct, he came to the Shokan area as an engineer on construction of the Battery tunnel for the B.R.T. subway. He specialized in geological and tunnel work and at one time was in charge of the Wallkill aqueduct division. In 1913 he came to the Shokan area on the construction and operation of the city tunnel of the great aqueduct in the Bronx and Manhattan sections. Mr. Sanborn was born in Sanborn, Colorado; he took the course in mining and metallurgy at Harvard where he graduated in 1899. Surviving are his wife, the former Dorothy Boswell, a son Robert S., and three daughters, Elizabeth Mitchell, Margaret Day and Joan Mitchell.

GARDINER

Gardiner, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Roy Every who is employed at the local postoffice is on vacation. During her absence Miss Edna Dugan is assisting at the office. Mr. Every also is spending his vacation at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Majestic and three children of Sylvia, N. C., are visiting Mrs. Majestic's mother, Mrs. Anna O'Neill. They will soon move to Glenville.

Mrs. Alfred McKinstry and Mrs. Frank Dugan, who recently visited in Poughkeepsie, Miss. Blanch Evans of Poughkeepsie and three nephews, James, John and William Everts of Hudson spent the week-end at the Everts home here.

Miss Mary Jenkin, principal of the local school and her pupils accompanied by Mrs. Ed. Wright and Mrs. Paul Kurtz visited the Museum of Natural History and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York last week.

Mrs. Laura Conn of Poughkeepsie spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Anderson.

John Ostrander, who underwent an operation at the Kingston Hospital last week is reported to be improving.

There will be regular services at the Reformed Church next Sunday. The Thanksgiving service was observed last Sunday with an appropriate sermon and spiritual music. The flowers on the altar were in memory of Charles and Elizabeth Wright and were presented by their children. The Sunday school will hold its Christmas program and party on Dec. 22 and Dec. 23. The choir will present a concert.

Richard Clinton who has been a patient at the Kingston Hospital has returned home.

The P. A. group of the local school met last week when arrangements were discussed for the Christmas party on Dec. 20.

Horticulturalists Make Plans for Annual Dinner

The banquet committee of the New York State Horticultural Society met at the Kingston Chamber of Commerce office on Tuesday night to make plans for the annual banquet on Jan. 26. This will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel as part of the convention and show at the New York State Armory here on Jan. 25-26 and 27. C. G. DuMont, Jr. of Ulster Park, was named as banquet committee chairman. Other members are William Coy, Ray A. Elmendorf, Paul Kurtz, and Gerow Schoonmaker.

On Friday afternoon of this week a special five-county committee will meet at the Governor Clinton Hotel to make plans for a special "Ladies' Day" program. Miss Lucille Parsons, local home demonstration agent, will assist in making plans for this special feature.

The housing committee of the Chamber of Commerce convention bureau will assist in finding accommodations for visitors who find it impossible to get into the hotels. It was reported today that the Governor Clinton Hotel is already completely filled for the period of the Horticultural Society convention and show.

other three first named will be one, two and three years "from and after appointment."

The successors, says the law, "shall be appointed for a term of three years from and after the expiration of the term of their predecessors in office."

In the event of a vacancy "other than by expiration of term," it will be filled by appointment for the unexpired term. Any member "may be removed by the appointing authority for cause and after a public hearing."

Members will serve without pay, and municipal officials, who are members, shall not "forfeit their right to exercise the powers, perform the duties or receive the compensation of the municipal office held by them during such membership."

The chairman of the board shall be named by the mayor and in the event he does not name one, he may be elected by the members.

May Employ Experts

The board is empowered to employ "experts and a staff and to pay for their services and such other expenses as may be necessary, not exceeding in all the appropriation that may be made for such board by the Common Council."

A major function of the board is to prepare and change, if necessary, a comprehensive master plan for the development of the entire area of the City of Kingston. It is empowered to hold public hearings. Measures and proposals are subject to action of the Common Council.

The council adopted reports of the Laws and Rules Committee and corporation counsel favoring payment of claims of $300 each to Mary E. Schick and Ida S. Rogers, 545 Abel street, for "damage to and loss of personal property" and $475 for damage to their house as the result of an overflowing sewer.

A request of H. G. Krom, local engineer of the state Public Works Department, for use of the council chamber Dec. 8 at 8 p. m. for forming an Ulster County Chapter, No. 1, of the Good Roads Association, was referred to the Building and Supplies Committee.

Charles Sells, state executive director of the association, will assist in installing the chapter, the letter said.

Milton Youths Held

Accused of stealing an automobile tire and wheel from George Pultz of Marlborough, two 18-year-old Milton youths, Charles Henry Richards and Charles Brewster, pleaded guilty to petit larceny charges when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Philip Lyons of Milton Monday night. The two youths were sentenced to a $10 fine or 10 days in jail each, and were jailed in lieu of paying the fine, state police reported. The arrests were made Monday after an investigation by state police of the Highland sub-station.

The Daughters of the American Revolution was organized in 1890.

Coykendall Mansion Being Razed

This old landmark on West Chestnut street, the castle-like home of the once prominent home of S. D. Coykendall railroad and banking tycoon, is being removed from the five-acre estate to make way for a 14-home housing project. Singer & Greene, realtors of 71 North Front street, owners of the property for the past three months, will build and sell the homes. (Freeman Photo) of the city since its early history. It is strictly a residential section. Has 38 Fireplaces

Coykendall Home

Commenting on the Coykendall mansion, Singer said it cost more than a million dollars to build over 50 years ago. It is of brick construction and stone from Belgium. Among its architectural features are 38 fireplaces, each a work of art.

Elderly resident of Kingston can recall the mansion in all its splendor when it was the home of S. D. Coykendall, railroad tycoon and one of the leading river transport operators who ran the Cornell Steamboat Company.

Coykendall's sons maintained the residence for years after his death and that of their mother, but it was finally left a vacant hulk, minus the elaborate furnishings that were sold when it was closed.

There was talk of it being turned into a swank night club, when ownership changed hands, but that plan faded, and Singer & Greene finally took title to the old estate three months ago.

Soon after taking title, the realtors started plans for razing the house and using the five acres as a housing development site.

Ben Greene, one member of the firm, has been in Kingston for five years, removing here from New York where he conducted an office for 20 years and still maintains one at 54th street.

Bill Singer, a commissioner of police and one of the city's leading business men for a number of years, is one of Kingston's best known citizens.

Singer came from New York in 1912 as an employee of the New York Board of Water Supply. Resigning from the engineering force, he joined the automobile sales force of the former Forsyth & Davis concern, and later opened a gasoline service station downtown, near the Rhinebeck ferry dock.

He shifted from that business to an interest in a local coal firm and then to the tire recapping business on North Front street. After a highly successful period in that endeavor during the war, he turned to real estate and insurance.

One of his major deals, outside of the Coykendall purchase, was the acquiring of old Golden Rule Inn at Ulster Park in which he still has an interest.

Disposing of the hotel, he retained land along Mirror Lake and has a shoreline bungalow, golf-any which he constructed himself. It includes 14 modern summer homes.

Outside the business world, Singer is closely identified with local sports. He is chairman of the Ulster British Boxing Committee and formerly promoted professional fights at the old Kingston Fairgrounds now the municipal stadium. In his youth, Singer was a close friend of the late Benny Leonard and boxed on cards with him in New York.

Since the end of the baseball season, Dan Forlmiter, center-fielder for the Kingston Colonials, has been with Singer & Greene, and will take an active part in operations relative to the Coykendall project.

Control Prepared

Riverside Cliff (UPI)—The Oriental fruit fly ever invades the United States, the University of California hopes to be ready to fight it. Prof. Harry S. Smith, specialist in biological control, has been sent to Hawaii to mass-produce several species of wasps that prey on the fly. Breeding stock for the wasps has been gathered in China and Formosa.

Anthony Slezak

were summoned to the scene and conducted an investigation. Deputy Sheriff John Crispino also was at the scene and assisted in directing traffic.

Anthony F. Slezak was engaged in the garage and heating business on Greenkill avenue under the name of Tony's Brake Service. Prior to locating on Greenkill avenue he was in business on upper Broadway.

Corner Kelly notified District Attorney Louis G. Bunn of the accident and withheld a verdict pending the outcome of further investigation and an autopsy which will be performed today.

Slezak is survived by his wife, Olive Baldwin Slezak, his mother, Mrs. Mary Spilo Slezak, Poughkeepsie, two brothers, John, Poughkeepsie, Frank, Millbrook, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Cady, Poughkeepsie, and Mrs. Elizabeth Krzymski, Poughkeepsie.

Funeral services will be held from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, Saturday at 10 a. m. Burial will be in the family plot in Montepose Cemetery.

Bridges' Attorney

Judge raked Hallinan over the coals for "improper" and "inflammatory" conduct during the first week of the trial.

He decided to stay the sentence only after urgent pleas by Hallinan's associate, James McElmish, and after Bridges himself had expressed doubt he would get "a square deal" if he had to change counsel. Bridges wanted the case put over until Hallinan would be available.

It would have marked the second time that Bridges had to get a new attorney in this case. Richard Gladstein, who usually represents the union leader, withdrew as counsel after receiving a six-months contempt sentence in New York, where he served as counsel for the defendants in the Communist trial.

Announcing his decision to let Hallinan continue Judge Harris called for a "forgive and forget" attitude, and the disbanding of wrangling and ill will.

Let's try this case like gentlemen, like lawyers, like Americans," he said.

Hallinan said the judge's act was "magnanimous" as far as his client was concerned.

During the height of the torrid, acrimonious clash, Hallinan lost shouting demands for a mistrial and tried unsuccessfully to disqualify Judge Harris from taking any further action in the contempt proceeding. He charged personal bias and prejudice.

Hallinan offered an affidavit asserting his good faith but Chief Prosecutor F. Joseph Donohue said this was "scrupulous and scandalous, impudent and contemptuous on its face."

Donohue accused Hallinan of roaring "up and down this courtroom like a mad dog, disregarding the rights of everyone, including Your Honor."

The court held that Hallinan consistently had ignored his rules and directions, insisted on going ahead, and sought to bring in matter ruled out by the judge, including references to the 1938 and 1941 deportation hearings and the 1945 Supreme Court opinion.

Citing some 40 to 50 specific instances, Judge Harris asserted Mr. Hallinan was not hearing on contempt. He was contemptuous on its face.

Marietta Might Become Regatta Locale, Is Report

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Should the Intercollegiate Rowing Association decide to change the site of annual regatta from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., the crew coaches would like to have Marietta, Ohio, investigated as a possible new location.

The Rowing Coaches Organization of America went on record to that effect at its annual meeting here, acting on a proposal from a Marietta committee.

Any move from Poughkeepsie, where the regatta has been held since 1895, must be considered by the Board of Stewards of the I.R.A., which includes Navy, Columbia, Cornell, Syracuse and Pennsylvania.

James H. McMillan of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was named president of the coaches' organization to succeed Harrison Sanford of Cornell.

The executive power of the I.R.A. is vested in a governing council.

Inauguration in every form and degree. Hallinan countered angrily that the judge "exhibited personal hatred and dislike for me" and he said Harris had prejudged the case of the defendants.

Throughout all this Bridges sat looking alternately worried and amused.

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE.

The late Joe Penner—may his sinoidal slumber rest in peace—made a career for himself in the theatre out of the question "Anybody wanna buy a duck?" Today, with your indulgence, I'd like to make a column out of an equally pertinent question:

Anybody wanna buy a haas apso? A tahl-tan? A dreentsche partrishond or, maybe, a draht-haar?

These tongue twisters came into my life a few days ago, along about sunset, when I was sauntering up Sixth Avenue and spotted a duchund romping and roughhousing in the window of a pet shop.

"That's for me," I said to myself. "He's built so Eleanor and I can pet him at the same time."

I walked in and asked the proprietress how much she wanted for the mutt.

"Hell cost you $250—and he's no mutt," she said.

"Isn't that a little steep?"

"It's very reasonable for a good duchund. If you wanted a full-blooded Australian kelpie, you'd have to pay $500 and up."

"I don't get this full-blooded business," I said. "What have these pups got in their veins—ketchup or Poi Roger 28?"

"You don't understand," said the proprietress. "They're champions and have the papers to prove it."

Well, there was no one else in the shop, and so I asked the lady if she'd mind giving me a run-down on how champions are selected.

What she told me is old stuff to fad fanciers, but on the off-chance that you're no more ill-would-be-conscious than I was, here it is....

For one thing, including the tongue-twisters already mentioned, there are 111 recognized breeds in the dog world. And for another, a pup isn't officially a pup unless it's registered with the American Kennel Club—the Burke's Peerage of poodchom.

During 1948, there were 239,495 new arrivals listed with the A.K.C., plus 65,905 official changes of ownership—and this is Big Business, and no kidding.

A few of the registered buyers sold for a thousand dollars or better.

Last year, the local clubs around the country sponsored 2,444 dog shows, and you could easily elect a Congressman with the number of judges, handlers, exhibitors and cut-throats involved in these yap-fests.

To rate a "Ch." before its name, a dog must first win a blue ribbon in its own class. This entitles it to compete for "best of winners."

If it wins that, it's given a certain number of points towards its championship, depending on the number of dogs it has beaten. Then, to be declared a champion, it has to win 15 points, getting them in at least three different shows under at least three different judges.

I asked the owner of the poodchomium to tell me something about the gentlemen who do the judging.

"There are more than 5,000 of them licensed by the A.K.C.," she said. "The club has set certain standards to guide them, but the judges don't have to pay any attention to them unless they want to, and their say-so is final."

Consequently, in selecting a "best of winners," a judge may pick a certain setter over a certain cocker one day, and a week later reverse himself at another show.

The tendency, however, is to go along with the opinion of the previous judge—and this sometimes results in strange selections. For instance, a couple of years ago a highly-touted European expert attended a show and was amused by the higgledy-piggledy appearance of a fox terrier whose owner had somehow managed to get him past the entry committee.

As a gag, he asked the handler if the dog was for sale.

"One of the judges overheard him and, not knowing that the European was joking, awarded a blue ribbon to the stumblum poodchom. And at subsequent shows, other judges went along with this decision until the animal had piled up enough points to win a championship. Today, old Higgledy-Piggledy is a big name in the dog business and worth more than a thousand dollars."

"It's a lot like show business," I said to the lady. "I know several Broadway and Hollywood chumps who have gotten into the thousand-dollar class by a very similar process."

Justifiable Patricide

Among the Chukchis of Siberia, a son may kill a parent, in the belief that only those who die a violent death will have a future life, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

About Vetoes

A bill which the President does not sign within 10 days after Congress adjourns automatically dies by "pocket veto." When Congress is in session, an unsigned bill becomes law unless vetoed within 10 days after it reaches him. To veto a bill it is necessary for the President to send a message to Congress.

Low Ebb of Education

The "Dark Ages" extended from the fall of the western Roman empire in 475 A.D. to the revival of learning in 1150, or about seven centuries. During this period, learning was at its lowest ebb in Europe.

One inch of rain on an acre of land would fill more than 600 barrels of 45 gallons capacity each.

SUITABLE PLAY—A customer may believe he's being fitted to a blue serge, but there's a pick-off play going on behind his back in the Newark clothing store, where Gene Hermanski, left, of the Dodgers and Phil Rizzuto, right, of the Yankees are salesmen. On the inside is Yanks' Tommy Henrich, who just dropped in.

Clothing and Soap Collection

This week the Archdiocese of New York is conducting its Thanksgiving campaign for wearable clothing and soap to help the suffering, starving families in Europe and the Near and Far East.

All interested persons are asked to send whatever clothing they have to the nearest Catholic rectory or school. The committee says that even if each person sent only one piece of soap, it would go a great way to help the people overseas who are in such dire need.

This clothing and soap will be shipped overseas and will be distributed without any regard to creed, race or color. It will go where it is needed, no matter who may be in want. The need is urgent and it is hoped that everybody will help to meet it successfully.

It is further stated that every Catholic school or rectory will welcome your help and each one can be assured that every bit of clothing and soap sent in will be sent directly to those overseas, who are in such dire need.

THIS YEAR
we have so much to thank you for...

THROUGHOUT this great country, people are taking time out from their labors to express thanks through prayer and thanksgiving.

And along with these personal expressions of gratitude, we would like to add a special message of thanks to all our friends, both old and new.

THANKS to all of you who have bought new Chevrolet cars and trucks from us. We appreciate your choice, and know you will find true driving enjoyment in the extra-value Chevrolet offers. THANKS to those of you who have placed orders and are waiting delivery. Your patience and your loyalty to the Chevrolet standard will find a sure reward in the complete satisfaction your new Chevrolet will bring you. THANKS to our many service customers, for the confidence you have shown in our service methods. We are proud of the fact that you like the way we take care of your car. We are happy that you keep coming back to us when it needs attention, because we want your car to give you perfect satisfaction.

THANKS to everyone who has made this one of the greatest years in Chevrolet history... in new car sales, in new truck sales, in service. Your preference has proved again that Chevrolet is the car America likes best, and we thank you for it.

Lt. Manuel Savatgy Married

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Jacquelyn Rose M. Gomez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramiro Gomez, Corona, L. I., to First Lt. Manuel Savatgy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Savatgy, 175 Washington avenue. The wedding took place Sunday, September 11, at 4:30 p. m. in Union Evangelical Church, New York, where the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. David Rallsback, pastor.

Edward Peterson was organist. Arthur Irise sang Ave Maria, Because and I Love You Truly. Vases of white gladioli and palms were at the altar and floral pieces were arranged on consecutive pews.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a hoop-skirted old fashioned white satin gown with tiers of Chantilly lace for a skirt and a train twelve feet long, trimmed with matching lace. The fingertip veil was trimmed with Chantilly lace and she carried a cascade of white gladioli with lily of the valley and satin streamers.

Miss Jere Salamone of Elmhurst, L. I., as maid of honor wore a violet marquisette and satin gown with picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink gladioli and pink tea roses. Miss Marlene Graw, Jersey City, N. J., in pink gown and hat with bouquet of pale pink gladioli and tulleman roses; and Miss Rose Anastasi, Corona, in pale green gown and hat with bouquet of pale yellow gladioli and tulleman roses. Junior bridesmaids, cousins of the bride, were Miss Doris Santos and Miss Gail Mathies, Lindenhurst, L. I., who wore yellow gowns and carried baskets of various flowers.

Attendants to the bridegroom were all lieutenants of the United States Air Force who, following the wedding, erected the traditional arch of sabers beneath which the bride couple passed. Lt. Arthur Haywood, Mitchell Field, was best man. Ushers were Lt. Robert Gribble, Langley Field, Va.; Lt. Elliott Ryan, Grenier Field, N. H.; and Lt. Charles Harder, Langley Field, Va.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the Amber Lantern, Flushing, L. I. The couple left for a wedding trip to Virginia, Beach and Florida. She wore a fitted brown shirtdress suit with white blouse and gold crucifix and carriage of yellow camellias, green accessories. They are living at El Paso, Tex.

The bride was graduated from Newtown High School, L. I., and was employed in the department of foreign trade of an export and import firm. Her husband was graduated from Kingston High School and U.S.M.A. Prep school. He entered service in 1948 and currently is assigned to Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Tex.

CHRISTMAS QUESTIONS

Several Christmas questions are: (1) May my brother and I send one Christmas card, printed with our names? We are unmarried and live at home. (2) How should cards be printed with the names of a widowed father and his teen-age daughter? (3) Is it improper for Mrs. John Smith to send cards printed Anne Doe to her business associates? (4) Should this name be prefixed with title?

(1) Yes, if your friends are the same. Otherwise such cards would hardly be very practical. (2) John Smith and Jane. (3) Quite all right if you mean that Anne Doe is the name she uses in business and that many might not know her family name. (4) No title.

Seating Guests

Dear Mrs. Post: Who seats the guests at luncheons and dinners, the host or hostess?

Answer: In their house, if there are no place cards, the hostess tells her guests where to sit. In a restaurant, the host usually does.

Engagement Question

Dear Mrs. Post: In a current best-seller it mentions that the man's family invited the girl's parents, who were complete strangers, to dinner so they could meet. Wasn't this procedure irregular? Shouldn't it have been turned around and the man's parents have been the first to go to see the girl's parents?

Answer: In the story, as everyone knows, no harm resulted in reversing the generally accepted procedure. However, in similar situations in real life it is safer to follow the rule, which is for the man's family to go to see the girl's family immediately. After this it would then be courteous to invite them to their house. If a definite invitation of any kind should be necessary in order for the strangers to meet, it is better that her family at least encourage his by inviting them.

Black With Trimming

Dear Mrs. Post: We'd had quite a heated office discussion concerning black worn at weddings. I seem to be the only one who thinks it is bad taste, even when worn by women who are not immediate family. Would you please settle the matter.

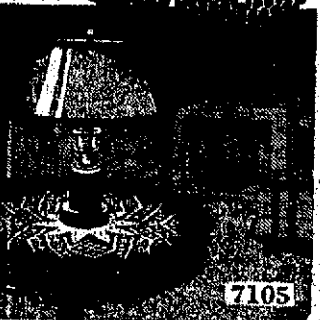

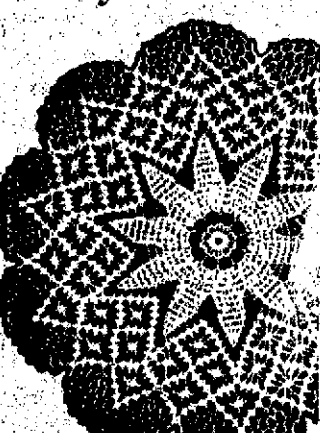

Answer: Black with trimming—even costume jewelry—on it is quite all right; just not solid black.

Could you name five assets to being popular in school? This is one of the questions given with the answer in Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-11, "ABC's in Manners," for young people of high school age. To obtain a copy, send five cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Snyder Honored At Valley Forge

Valley Forge, Pa. — Frederic Snyder of Kingston, N. Y., was the special guest of Freedom's Foundation here Monday. He was greeted by General Eisenhower as a factor in two of the foundation's awards.

Snyder wrote the closing part of the program, "Know Your America" as broadcast by Station WJR at Detroit. It was this appeal to loyalty that attracted the attention of judges. The station won a high award.

The Kingston lecturer also placed in nomination the address delivered by the Hon. John Foster Dulles at Union College in Schenectady in June, 1948. This address was awarded a distinguished merit medal by the judges. In addition Snyder created the general slogan of the day, "Speak Up for Freedom." He was therefore invited by the trustees to attend the first presentation exercises when $84,000 in cash prizes was awarded in addition to an impressive list of gold medals. He will make some of the addresses of local presentation.

Funds for the prizes in 1950 have been deposited. An additional $50,000 will be applied in public and parochial schools.

The 1949 awards were granted to trade unions, clergymen, editors, teachers, artists, judges, cameramen and many other professional classifications.

Snyder advanced a suggestion which was acted upon by the trustees of the foundation. He urged the employment of the wounded veterans confined to the

Do You Remember

Received the following letter from Edward Hauptlich of Albany, 'You may remember a Rev. Russell S. Gaende who is now pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, on Central avenue in Albany. Each week a woman columnist writes up one of the Albany and vicinity churches. Maybe you would like to read about one of your former Kingstons. Chipping is herewith.'

The column of the "Knickerbocker News" by Marion West has a fine picture of the Rev. R. Gaende and of the church. It says in part: 'English services were inaugurated in 1940, after conducting worship in German for more than 80 years. The building was dedicated in 1880, on the site of the old church, still in use as a parish hall. The nucleus of 32 Lutherans organized the original congregation and connected with the Evangelical Lutheran Ministry of New York. They hired the old City Missions Building on State street to hold services. Rev. Gottlieb Fuchsmann was elected minister, but he served only a few months when he resigned to return to Germany. Rev. Ernst Hoffman was secured, and he began his ministry May 1, 1939, the same day the newly erected church was dedicated. During the time they were without a minister, they joined temporarily with the First German Lutheran Church of the South End where they worshipped for a season under the Rev. Christian Hennicke.

The new church, dedicated May 30, 1888, designed by a son of the minister, bearing same name as his father, Ernst Hoffman. He was the eldest of three boys and achieved considerable success as an Albany architect. Another son became a doctor and a third son, the Rev. Hugo W. Hoffman, followed in his father's footsteps. In fact, Hugo was called as an associate to his father in the summer of 1886. The elder Mr. Hoffman died the following year after serving the church 25 years, and his son, Hugo, then associate pastor, was elected pastor. He served for some 8 years and resigned to accept a position in Brooklyn. Just when the word "German" was dropped from the title was not certain, but during the early years of the congregation it was mostly composed of German speaking immigrants. There is also described a boat excursion to Barren Island, a point half way between Albany and Kingston by Mrs. Rachel Kinné who resigned two years ago after 89 years as superintendent of the Sunday school primary department.

The article winds up with the last paragraph devoted to "The present pastor, the Rev. Russell S. Gaende, came to St. John's Jan. 1, 1947. Since his pastorate the church has taken a more active part in the work of cooperative Protestantism in the community and has affiliated with the Federation of Churches in Albany and vicinity."

Mr. J. H. also sent me an article from the "Eric Railroad Magazine" titled "Way Back When Berths Were Only 50 cents," reading in part: "Writing from New Haven, Conn., in August, 1893, Charles Hancock, then editor of "Forest and Stream" describes a trip over the Erie Railroad he made in that year. The Erie was among the first railroads in this country to run sleeping and parlor cars over its lines, one of the many innovations of 19th century railroading for the betterment of rail travel."

Sentence Is Affirmed
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—The Court of Appeals today affirmed the death sentence for George P. Reeh convicted of killing a New York city man during a monument shop holdup. Reeh, 31, was convicted of first degree murder last

LONE SURVIVOR OF PLANE CRASH

Eleven-year-old Isaac Allal, sole survivor of a plane crash in Norway which brought death to 27 other Jewish refugee children and seven adults, lies in hospital at Drammen, Norway. Wreckage was found on a wooded hillside 30 miles from Oslo more than 42 hours after the crash. (A.P. Photo by radio from London)

May 27 along with Leonard Rosenberg, 29, in the slaying of Benjamin Klein among tombstones in the shop. The general sessions jury, however, recommended leniency for Rosenberg. He was sentenced to life imprisonment. The high court set the week of January 9 for Reeh's execution in Sing Sing prison. The decision was unanimous. There was no opinion.

Drug Is Helpful In Cold Treatment

Chicago, Nov. 23 (AP)—One of the antihistamine drugs now on the market was used successfully in curing and preventing colds in tests made on volunteer patients, two researchers have disclosed.

The drug, known medically as Neobetramine, is for public sale without prescription under the trade name Anabest. The researchers said their 100 per cent success for cures was possible only when the drug was given within 48 hours after the onset of a cold. It was of no value when a cold had reached the full-blown stage, they said.

The experiments were conducted by Dr. Charles C. Sweet, medical director of Sing Sing Prison and Dr. Joseph J. Armino, consultant on allergy at Sing Sing and Maryknoll Convent and Seminary, both of Ossining, N. Y. The volunteer patients were from the two institutions.

The researchers said: "Theoretically it should be possible to abort the common cold if an antihistamine drug could be given in adequate dosage during the first 48 hours of the disease." They said Neobetramine appeared to be "safe and effective" for daily use over a long period.

Reporting the experiments in the December issue of Industrial Medicine and Surgery, the researchers said there were no cases of drowsiness or other ill effects when the drug was administered in doses of 100 milligrams a day over 180 days.

The Council on Pharmacy and

Chemistry of the American Medical Association, in a statement, "warned against the indiscriminate use of antihistamine substances which are now being promoted widely for the prevention and treatment of colds."

The council, without naming any specific antihistamine substance, said: "Cases are already reported and records show that about one-third of those who take these drugs become drowsy or even fall asleep while at work in occasional cases while driving cars or operating machinery. Experience with these drugs is not yet long enough to know whether or not they are harmless when used over long periods of time."

But Not This Year

Salt Lake City, Nov. 23 (AP)—A downtown restaurant posted in its window a Thanksgiving Day menu offering a full course dinner for 85 cents. For that price the diner could get soup, salad, oyster cocktail, olives and hot rolls, plus a choice of roast of lamb, turkey, capon, gosling, duckling, fricasee of chicken, lamb chops or prime ribs of beef, pie and beverage. There was a catch. The menu was dated November 24, 1932—good for a holiday meal in those depression days. In New York, the same dinner was offered for tomorrow by a restaurant chain for $4.

Culture Pearls

Culture pearls are made by inserting small pellets of mother-of-pearl inside the oyster, which attempts to ease the irritation by covering the pellet with layers of nacreous matter. Only by bisecting a pearl can the artificial center be detected.

VICTIM

Little Josephine Yanez, (above) 17-month-old Huron, Calif., child, was raped, abused and slain in what Chief Criminal Identification Bureau Officer Ed Martin of Fresno county said was "the most vicious murder ever committed in this county." The child was kidnapped from a parked car. (A.P. Wirephoto)

Car Is Recovered

A Chrysler convertible which had been reported stolen from Troy Tuesday evening was recovered at Bloomingington yesterday by Deputy Sheriff H. Keator and Charles McCullough. The car, owned by Goode Cavanni of Troy, was in good condition except for an empty gas tank and missing ignition keys. It had been abandoned along the road.

Benders Were Something
Los Angeles, (AP)—When Alexandria, Egypt, went on a bender in the second century B.C., the city was really equipped for it. This fact was dug up by Dr. Arthur Patch McKinley of the University of California. In Bactria festivals, giant wine containers were drawn through the streets by the faithful. One great cart was drawn by 600 men and carried 30,000 gallons of wine.

Tickets Going Fast For Benefit Polgar Program on Dec. 1

Requests for tickets to the benefit "Miracles of the Mind" show of Franz J. Polgar, hypnosis and mental telepathy expert, indicate a capacity crowd at the Kingston High School auditorium Thursday night, Dec. 1, at 8:30 o'clock.

The Polgar show is being brought to Kingston by B'nai B'rith Lodge with proceeds to the Ulster County Tumor Clinic and other charities.

Polgar is one entertainer who puts his audience to sleep intentionally. He has been rated as hypnotist extraordinary and audiences have gasped at his mental wizardry.

The Saturday Evening Post recently released a feature article about the amazing Polgar.

Excerpts from the article follow:

On the west coast a group thought they had a stunt which would stump Polgar. They hid an object in a chandelier reached by a ladder, and then put the ladder away. Polgar had to be made to understand without any spoken instructions that he must first seek out a ladder, then climb up and recover the object. He did both.

Some of his other outstanding feats included the time he found a war stamp hidden in an office on the 15th floor of a skyscraper.

Quickly Relieves Distress of Sneezy, Stuffy Head Colds

A few drops of Vicks Vapo-Rol in each nostril work fast to relieve head colds, sneezes, make breathing easier. And it's used as first aid to help prevent many colds developing. Try it. Follow directions in the package.

VICKS VAPO-ROL

In Chicago, in New York he found an audience concealed miles away according to the spot in a cab and giving the driver directions, although no one ever told Polgar exactly where to go. A newspaperman seated next to him in the cab was asked to feed him directions by telepathy. Polgar proceeded to call the correct turns to the driver.

The ingenious Polgar has even acted as cupid without knowing it at the time. Selecting several "sleepers" from an audience at an eastern resort, he put them to sleep and then seated a man and a girl side by side on the platform. When they awoke they fell to talking about the sensation they had experienced. A year later, the couple approached Polgar and asked "do you remember us?" "Well," they said, "you brought us together. We're married. It was a hypnotic romance."

He has even reached into athletic circles to cast his magic spell.

Last fall Polgar hypnotized the Georgia Tech football team the day before they were slated to play Alabama. Georgia Tech won the game. The next Saturday, Polgar was hundreds of miles away, filling an engagement. The Georgia Tech team lost. Possibly a coincidence, but for the remainder of the season the Atlanta papers were crying, "The team needs Polgar."

Although Polgar has met many skeptics who question his powers, the majority have turned out to be converted in the long run.

Recently in the case of a news photographer for a New York paper who flashed a picture of Polgar in action at the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Science and then fell asleep. The doctor had hypnotized him with almost a single glance.

Tickets for the show may be obtained from any member of B'nai B'rith Lodge or at the door on the night of the show.

New Aldermen Are Invited

Alderman-at-large Charles J. Turck at the recessed meeting of the Common Council last night extended an invitation to all recently elected members of the council to attend the regular meeting of the councilmen December 6, Two of the aldermen elected, Robert C. Cullum, 12th Ward, and Herschel Mayes, First Ward, were present last night and were introduced by Turck.

Farm Housing Program Underway in Ulster County

The farm housing program, recently enacted by Congress, has been launched in Ulster County which will share in the $428,690 allotted to New York state as the current appropriation.

The authorized appropriation for the entire country for the four year period is $275,000,000.

Applications for loans to repair or build farm houses and other farm buildings are now being received at the Farmers Home Administration county office, 25 East O'Reilly street.

The housing program also has been started in Sullivan, Dutchess and Greene counties. Farmers in these counties should apply at the Kingston office for loan particulars.

Under the new program, loans may run for a maximum of 33 years at four per cent interest and can be made to farm owners who cannot obtain farm housing loans from their banks or other sources.

Norman said: Owners who qualify may also get loans for improving housing for their operating tenants. Loans are subject to approval by the local three-member Farmers Home Administration county committee.

The Housing Act provides for a four-year period of loan making. New York state's share of the current appropriation is $428,690 which will allow the making of about 130 loans at the estimated average of $2,200 per loan.

Norman, who said that veterans will receive preference, predicted conducted the service. He was assisted by the Rt. Rev. Horace B. Donegan, bishop coadjutor who will succeed Bishop Gilbert next year.

The rites were described as the most elaborate ever held in the cathedral and lasted for nearly two hours.

After the services the casket was taken to the Ferncliff Cemetery near Ardsley, N. Y., where the body was to be cremated. The ashes eventually will be placed in the cathedral.

Two Take Exam

Fred P. Pellus, 81 Wrentham street, janitor at School No. 6, and James H. Decker, 96 Andrew street, janitor at the Myron J. Michael School, last night at the city hall took a civil service promotional examination for the position of head janitor at the local high school. The vacancy at the high school was created by the retirement of Charles A. Ringwald, 83 West O'Reilly street.

A Tasty Dish

Parboiled green peppers after cutting off the tops and removing the inner seeds and membranes, cut in half lengthwise, fill with mixture of creamed ham and cooked macaroni. Top with buttered soft bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven for about half an hour.

Thanksgiving Will Be Observed at Special Services

Immanuel Lutheran

A Thanksgiving Day service will be held at Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston street, Thursday at 10 a. m. The Rev. Ernest L. Witte will deliver a sermon on the theme, "Let Us Daily Give Thanks." He will stress on the theme that no nation upon earth has more reason to thank God than our own United States and that as a people we have received such abundant blessings making it possible for all to be a blessing for many other lands. The choir will sing the anthem "Praise Ye the Father" by Gounod, under the direction of Waldemar Bloch, who will also serve as the organist. The public is invited.

First Church of Christ

There will be services tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the First Church of Christ Scientist, 181 Fair street. Subject of the sermon will be "Thanksgiving."

Temple Emanuel

There will be a Thanksgiving service Friday, Nov. 25, in Temple Emanuel at 7:45 p. m. with some of the children of the religious school participating. Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom will preach on the theme, "Some Hebrew Memories of Plymouth Rock." Hebrew school will meet Sunday at 9 a. m. and the religious school at 10 a. m. Rabbi Bloom will begin a series of Jewish broadcasts over WKNY Sunday, Nov. 27, from 1:15 to 1:30 p. m.

St. Paul's Church

The Festival of Thanksgiving will be celebrated in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck street, tonight at 7:45 o'clock. Music for the service will be furnished by the choir under the direction of Herman LaTour. Miss Betty LaTour will be the soloist. Miss Marion Marquart will be at the organ.

The program will include the following musical selections: prelude, "Thanksgiving Prelude" by A. Marchant; gradual, anthem with solo by Miss LaTour; "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," by E. Clark; offertory anthem, "A Song of Thanksgiving," by N. Light-hill; and postlude, "We Will Give Thanks," by E. Ashford. The sermon by the pastor is "A Pilgrim's Thanksgiving."

5,000 Are Present At Bishop's Rites

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—More than 5,000 persons, including Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and high church and lay officials, attended the funeral yesterday of the Rt. Rev. William T. Manning, retired Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York.

The crowd filled the huge Cathedral of St. John the Divine, which Bishop Manning greatly enlarged before his retirement three years ago.

As torch-bearers and white-robed choir boys began the funeral procession, the purple-draped casket stood before the cathedral's altar.

Behind the choirboys came the honorary pallbearers, led by Governor Dewey and Deputy Mayor John J. Bennett. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, listed as an honorary pallbearer, was not present.

Behind the pallbearers came a group of high dignitaries of related foreign denominations, Russian, Serbian, Polish, Armenian and Ukrainian.

The Rt. Rev. Charles K. Gilbert, who succeeded Bishop Manning,

Thanksgiving

Lord God, we give Thee thanks this day,
Humbly, in our simple way,
For all the gracious gifts which Thou
Hast deigned so richly to endow —
For life — for every passing minute —
For this, Thy world, and all things in it!

We give Thee thanks, dear Lord, for these —
The green beneficence of trees,
The kindness of rain, the birth
Of springtime from a barren earth —
The earth that bears the bread we break
In gratitude for Thy sweet sake.

We thank Thee, Lord, for healing song,
For courage, wise and tall and strong;
For all the laughter and the tears
That mold the pattern of our years;
For truth and trust and constancy,
For faith that lets us lean on Thee!

We give Thee thanks for ears to hear,
For feet to tread Thy pathways here,
For hands to touch, and lips to sing
Thy name in every lovely thing —
For friendship with our fellow men —
But mostly for Thy love.

AMEN

Sickler's Colonials Are Ready for Opener

Monticello Legion Here Thanksgiving

Len Sickler's Colonials launch another Orange-Sullivan (and Ulster, too) League basketball campaign in Kingston Thanksgiving Night against the undefeated Monticello Legionnaires.

Boostered by the addition of Rod Sagendorf, ex-K.H.S. and Hartwick star, Buddy Smith and Bob Ghear, the Colonials open the season on a high note of optimism.

The feature contest is scheduled at 9 p. m. and with a preliminary set for 7:30 p. m.

Monticello's powerful quintet—a combine of last year's Monticello and Liberty outfalls—has knocked off five straight victories.

"The Claw" Returns

Joe "The Claw" Albany, one of the all-time K.H.S. backcourt stars, is another addition who is expected to add power and lustre to the Colonial ensemble.

The Colonials starting lineup is expected to show Rod Sagendorf and Andy Murphy at the forwards; George Bloom or Buddy Smith, center; Joe Albany and Bob Ghear. Others in the east are Ken Lowe, Clark Mains, Tommy Murness and Johnny Veritis.

Tony Albany and Joe Garland are likely to miss the opener because of injuries.

Monticello's powerful starting array shows Kaplan and Avery up front; Manchester at center; Brown and Prince in the backcourt.

The tentative lineups:

Sickler's	Monticello
Sagendorf	Kaplan
Murphy	Avery
Bloom	Manchester
Albany	Brown
Ghear	Prince

New Paltz Five Sets Opener

New Paltz State Teachers College varsity basketball team opens its 1949-50 season Saturday, Dec. 3, against the Middletown Collegiate Center in New Paltz.

Coach Loren D. Campbell has announced a season's schedule of 14 games.

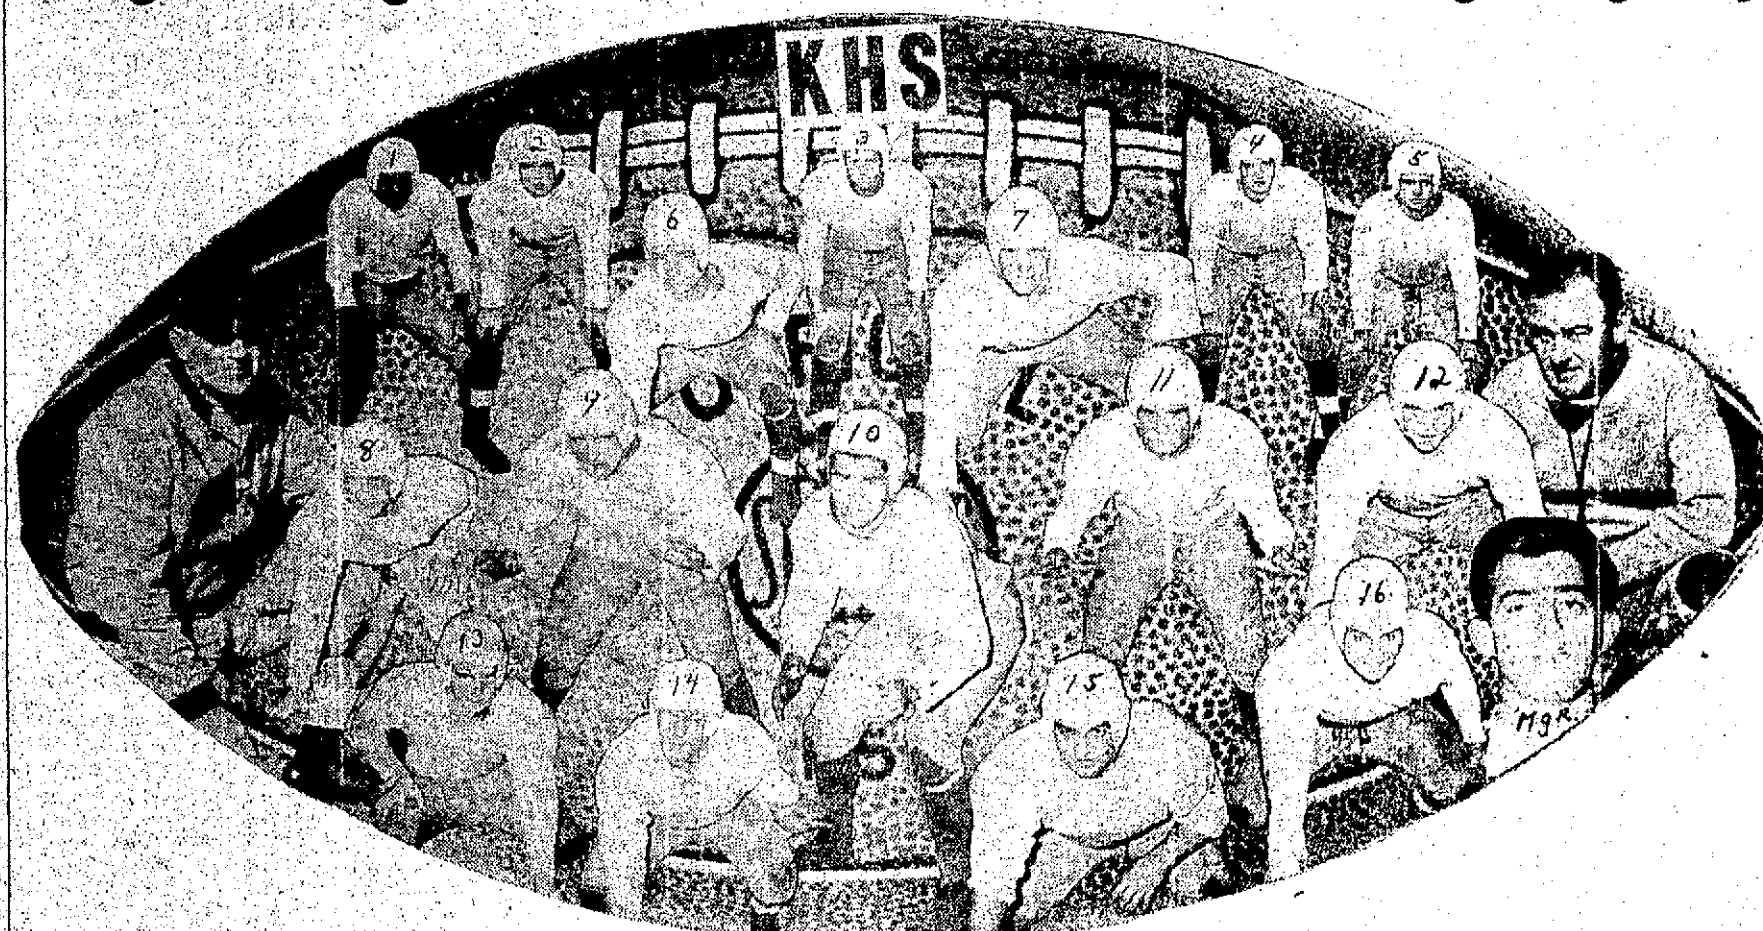

All home games except the opener with Middletown will begin at 8:45 p. m., with a preliminary at 7:45 p. m.

This season marks New Paltz's second since the post-war period. A sprinkling of veterans and several promising newcomers are expected to give the Orange and Blue a formidable unit this season.

The Schedule

Saturday, Dec. 3, Middletown Collegiate Center, home.
Friday, Dec. 9, Oneonta State Teachers College, home.
Friday, Dec. 16, Albany State Teachers College, home.
Saturday, Jan. 7, Newark Teachers College, home.

Friday, Feb. 24, Plattsburgh Teachers College, away.
Saturday, Feb. 25, Poughkeepsie State Teachers College, away.
Saturday, March 4, Plattsburgh Teachers College, home.
Saturday, March 11, Alumni, home.

Kingston High-N.F.A. in 35th Renewal Thanksgiving Day

An underdog Kingston High School football squad is primed for a supreme effort against Newburgh Free Academy in the traditional Turkey Day clash between the rival DUSO League powers. N.F.A. rules a two-touchdown favorite to whip the Maroon and win outright its first conference pennant since 1945, the year before Coach Bill Burke took over at K.H.S. Since then, Kingston has defeated Newburgh six times in eight starts, with a tie, and one setback, 14-0 early this season. N.F.A. holds a tremendous edge in the rivalry that dates back to 1922 with 22 victories against 9 for Kingston. There have been three ties in the series. Kingston reached its all time peak against N.F.A. in 1948 when the Maroon powerhouse rolled over the Academicians, 32-0 and 28-7. Newburgh has a fleet of powerful backs to throw at Kingston tomorrow. Top man, of course, is Dick Tyler, the slick T-operator and the outstanding veteran in the DUSO circuit. His backfield operatives include Orville "Zero" Orts, who was their best runner against Kingston in the first game;

Dick Ronsini, Carmine Viglotti, Petrillo and Cen. The big man in the line is veteran center, John Bowman, a three-letter star. The Kingston backfield will operate with Bill Shaughnessy at quarter, Harvey Keyes and Harold Acker at the halves and John Weber at fullback. Ronnie Scheffel, who is used only on offense, will handle the passing duties. The composite photo above shows the first string squad on which Kingston will pin its hopes tomorrow. By numbers they are: 1, Harvey Keyes; 2, Ronnie Scheffel; 3, John Weber; 4, Harold Acker; 5, Bill Shaughnessy; 6, Bud Scheffel; 7, Dick Davenport; 8, Jim Rietz; 9, Harvey Semelof; 10, Duow Meyers; 11, Henry Levy; 12, Will Hansen; 13, Walt Hansen; 14, Joe Berryman; 15, Lou Fuoco; 16, Norm Rice; Head Coach Bill Burke, left; and line coach, Russ Cunningham, right. While Kingston and Newburgh are battling in Kingston, Port Jervis and Middletown clash in another traditional battle in Port Jervis. Kickoff time at municipal stadium is 2 p. m.

Bears' Franz Lineman of Week

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Rod Franz, California's 1948 All-American guard, was selected today as Lineman of the week.

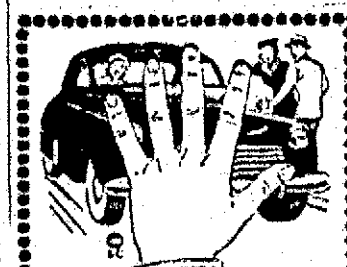

A leading candidate to retain his All-American honors, Franz earned first place in the weekly Associated Press Lineman poll for his inspired play against Stanford.

California whipped Stanford, 33-14, a victory which put the unbeaten and untied Bears in the Rose Bowl against Ohio State.

Playing his best game of the season, Franz threw the key block on the play that let Jim Monachino go 84 yards in the third period to the Stanford four. This paved the way for the California touchdown that wiped out Stanford's 14-12 lead and was the turning point of the game.

In addition to his key blocks on many offensive plays, Franz was strong defensively. His tackling jarred Stanford players on several occasions.

Franz is the second guard this year to be chosen as Lineman of the week. The previous was Bill Schneider, of Pennsylvania.

Cage Openers Feature Routs

Wiltwyck Motors and Chez Emile came up with a pair of 88s to launch the 1949-50 Y.M.C.A. Basketball League with impressive victories over Village Restaurant and Schuler's Inn.

Scoring heroes were a dime a dozen as the Motormen rolled over Village, 88-49, while Chezies crushed Schuler's 88-39.

The Chez-Schuler contest was reasonably close for a period but the Wiltwyck-Village bout was a rout from the opening buzzer.

Highest scores of the night were Ken Lowe of Chez Emile and McCordie of Schuler's with 22 points. Bob Hunt of Wiltwyck and George Glaser of Chez Emile poured in 21 apiece while Mathers of Wiltwyck and Big Bob Ghear of Chez Emile accounted for 20. Other high scorers were Magley's 18 for Village and "Champ" Holstein's 15 for Chez. The boxscores:

Kramer Leads Gonzales 17-3 in Pro Tennis

Pittsfield, Mass., Nov. 23 (AP)—Professional Jack Kramer, Dick (Pancho) Gonzales and their fellow tennis tourists will take time off tonight before resuming their transcontinental tour with a Thanksgiving date in Washington, D. C.

Kramer gained his 17th win in 20 starts against Gonzales, 6-4, 6-4, here last night before an overflow 1,100 crowd. Several hundreds of others had to be turned away because of the state armory's limited seating capacity.

Frankie Parker, who turned professional with Gonzales, gained his fourth win in 20 tries against Pancho Segura with a 7-5, 6-1 decision.

Six Teams To Stay In Colonial League

Reported Expansion Fails to Materialize

Stamford, Conn., Nov. 23 (AP)—All members of the Colonial Baseball League voted last night to continue operations next season in the same locations, President John Scalzi reported.

The Class B league had six clubs last season—Bristol, Waterbury, Stamford and Bridgeport, in Connecticut, and Kingston and Poughkeepsie, in New York state.

Scalzi said members of the league would attend the minor league convention in Baltimore, Md., December 6-9.

He was asked about recurrent rumors that the Colonial League might take in some clubs now with the New England League. Scalzi replied that "as things stand now we'll operate just as we did last season." He indicated that nothing would be changed unless something developed at the Baltimore meeting.

Scalzi said the dates of the league's 1950 season won't be set until later.

Card Complete For Galento Show

The complete card for the professional wrestling show featuring Two-Ton Tony Galento at the municipal auditorium on Tuesday, Nov. 29, was announced today by Promoter Bill Johnston as follows:

Main Event
Tony Galento, Orange, N. J., vs. Irish Jack Kelley, Boston, to a finish.

30-Minute Bout
Faro Riqualdi, Rome, Italy, vs. Harry Finkelstein, Boston.

Wally Derr, Australia, vs. Mike Alfano, the Bronx.

Steve Karas, Detroit, vs. Lew Bernardi, Montreal, Canada.

Rip Sewell Named

Pittsburgh, Nov. 23 (AP)—Rip Sewell, veteran right handed pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, today was named manager of the National League's club farm team in Charleston, S. C. Sewell, 41, wound up his big league pitching career with the Bucs last season. He will pitch for the Class A South Atlantic League club when necessary.

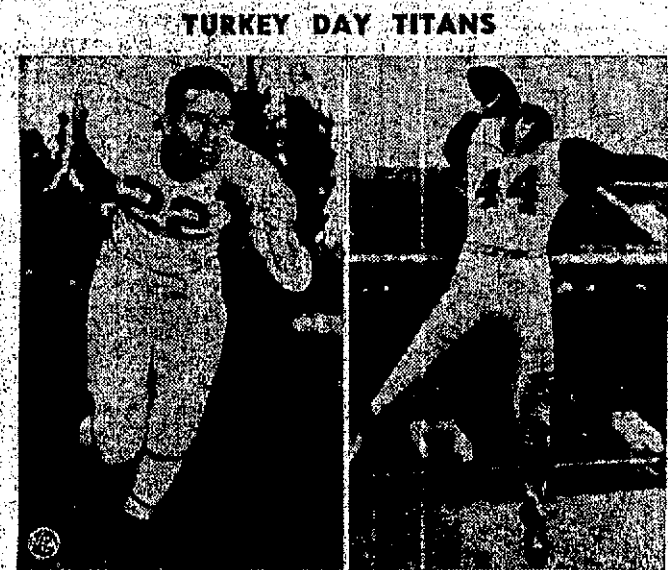

Aid Is Effective

New Brunswick, N. J. (AP)—Money aid to students who do not have to pay back loans has been tried by Rutgers University. Most students do pay back the money and effective aid is given, a report on the project says. The aid is given students who need small sums—$25 to $50—to stay in school. Such a loan often can fix money troubles and put the student at ease. There is no interest and no time limit on repayment. It is not compulsory to pay it back. Sometimes years pass before payment. But very few loans are not repaid, Rutgers says.

Serpent on Beach

Banbury, Australia, (AP)—A rare great or ribbon fish, commonly called a sea serpent, has been washed up on the beach here. Fifteen feet long and 13 inches at its widest point, the fish has a small head, long sucker mouth, big gills, a long pink crest and long thick feelers protruding beneath its mouth. A pink fin runs the length of its body, which is broadly marked with phosphorus and dotted with large black spots. It has no scales.

More than one-half of the normal use of tin in the United States goes into the making of receptacles for canning foods.

Bowling

K.W.B.A. STARTS PLANS FOR STATE TOURNAMENT

The initial meeting of the non-member division committee for the New York State Women's bowling tournament was held recently in Port Jervis at the home of Mrs. Edith Hunsinger.

In attendance were: Reta Frederick, general tournament chairman; Dot Rowland, Marge Jansen, Mary Coniglio, Dolores Freese, June Van Kleek, Marge McCullough and Yolanda Tenedini.

Complete squads of non-member teams will be used for the opening night ceremonies of the state tournament. Non-member teams can be recruited from the 9 to 13 age group; the teen age or high school group; and any women bowlers who are not affiliated with a sanctioned league.

The non-member division committee will be concerned with procuring sponsors for non-member teams. A team sponsor will be required to pay the team's entry fee of $25. A poster bearing the sponsor's name will be placed on the alley, of which his team rolls its games. He will be listed on the official program.

The next meeting of the non-member division committee will be held on Sunday, Nov. 27, at the Chatelet bowling alleys in Roseland.

Evening Gross 514 triple with 161-184-184 was the best score produced in a low-scoring session of the Friendship League last night. The other upper bracket counts included: 484-484, Reta Frederick, 481; Beverly Maricle, 455; Jo Smith, 456; J. Kelder, 456; and O'Brien, 466.

R. Cutler, hanged out another good triple of the 372-372-372 in the 1000 series. He threw scores of 187, 209, 208. A couple of journeymen golfers—Ad. Schultz and Stan Handkinson—posted 448 and 522 respectively. Schultz had high 80s of 213 and Handkinson 202.

Bud Evans and J. Provenzano climbed over the 1000 mark in the Silver Palace circuit to place a break scoring session.

Evans compiled 245-220-180-225, while Provenzano reeled off 477-224-220-208. Charlie Korne led off 225-222. Scott Vining, 205-250; Stan Wines, 236; Ross Ellis, 511; Cliff Davis, 532; Huck Sylversky, 220-213-590; Larry Jacobs, 211-542; Jim Costello, 210-567; Frank Russo, 510; Herm Seelbach, 220-587; Mitzi Arlensky, 551; W. Robinson, 241-548; Ray Otto, 212-200-572; John Fredrick, 200-536; Johnny Davis, 510; Carl Rietty, 502; Percy Slover, 211-235-553.

A. Mayone's 534 with 162-168-204 was the best of three five-hundred triples in the Booster League last night. J. Glavinich led off 516 and B. Lawrence had 502. Other top efforts included H. Letus, 490; Bob Steeger, 486; Bill Ball, 481; J. Houghtaling, 484; George Kuriger, 471; W. Johnson, 483; W. Letus, 484; H. Steeger, 454; W. Malsenholder, 457.

A Team That Won't Lose

The moment of decision between Kingston High and Newburgh Free Academy is at hand. Tomorrow afternoon in the glaring November sunlight that will engulf municipal stadium, the Maroon football warriors can earn for themselves a place among the great K.H.S. teams, or they can relegate their status to just another squad that represented Kingston High, adequately but not brilliantly.

Bill Shaughnessy and company can prove that eleven resolute young men with a will to win can overcome theoretical odds and expose an allegedly superior opponent as a fraud.

Newburgh Free Academy's football squad is not a fraud, yet it is not invincible. After all, they're just a group of young men like K.H.S. representatives. They put their football pants on one leg at a time. Just like they do in Kingston.

Whatever pre-game superiority is conceded the Academians exists only on paper. It has to be proved on the gridiron. The history of football is studded with heroes of hard fighting teams who arose to supreme heights in the "big game." This is the big game for K.H.S. Two years ago they weren't supposed to beat K.H.S., but they did. Tomorrow they are supposed to lose again. History has a way of repeating itself and can you think of a finer setting than municipal stadium Thursday afternoon?

Flotsam and Jetsam:

According to the Rosendale ticker tape, Charlie Streib, the dispenser of frogs legs and Richard Tauber music, has succumbed to the golf bug and will pursue the aspirin tablets around Florida golf courses this winter. The proprietor of the Igloo was quite a shuffleboard player in his day, one of the best, and probably could make a shambles of the present day field. But, when he thinks with golf, Charlie is apt to discover that the road to greatness is long and rocky. He expects to return from the southlands and take on Floyd Flint, the brickyard tycoon, in a special challenge match. For Charlie's sake, we hope he confines the transaction to frogs legs and beer. Like his name, Mr. Flint can be very sharp at times, as the Twaitskill devotees will tell you. . . . Donald Barringer of Esopus and Willy Adams of Chichester were members of the Cobleskill Institute cross country team. . . . Adams was captain and No. 1 runner.

Nick Kaslich, Mr. Billiard of Kingston, has announced plans for the annual city pocket billiard championships in January. He is taking entries and hopes to have a representative field for the annual classic. Champion Dave Brooks will defend his crown against a group of challengers that will feature among others Jules Teller, Stan Warren, Bob East, Harry Maricle, Frank Schilling, Mac Forte, Ralph Gardner, champion of Johnston avenue, and others. How about the Quick brothers—Clifton and Harold—getting back into contention?

Jake Chichelsky's Corner:

Among bowling newcomers who show great promise are Ken Josephs, Ted Baker, Jim Milano, June Kelder, and Bill Allen. . . . Will Hoffman's Oxford squad of the Jacobson Mixer pulled the biggest upset of the season by downing the powerful Jayson team last week. . . . Marietta Monteff and Mary Purdee are among the more improved koglerettes. . . . Dewey Logan has switched to a Manhattan. . . . John Covey is perhaps the most elaborate secretary in the city at the moment and that takes in a lot of ground when you consider such outstanding contemporaries as George Robinson, "Pop" Auchmoody, Jack Hartman, Jack Blinder, Helen Brookie and Jo Smith. . . . Among the newcomers who do good panel and paper work are Vesta Hornbeck, John Schatzel and Jack Thompson. . . . Ted Giles, Jr., Tom Parker and Marnie Colao are doing secretarial work for the first time. Give your secretaries your cooperation and assistance. . . . Help him be a real secretary, not a suckertary.

Kiwanis Club Members Are Guests of Rotary

Members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club were the guests this noon of the Rotary Club. The regular Thursday noon meeting has been canceled for tomorrow due to the Thanksgiving holiday. However, a round table meeting will be held at the regular time at the Governor Clinton Hotel for Kiwanians wishing to maintain perfect attendance records but who were unable to attend today's meeting with Rotary. . . . John Covey will be held Saturday and Sunday at 2 p. m. for Kiwanis Kapers, the variety show to be presented at Kingston High School on Monday and Tuesday, November 28 and 29.

Beat About the Bush
Chicago (AP)—The expression "beating about the bush," is derived from the old pastime of beating about the bush. World Book Encyclopedia researchers say the diversion began in the 1400's in England; and it resulted in many a night out for men who hunted birds and were known as bantowlers. It adds:
The bantowlers, armed with a light and a weapon resembling a baseball bat, cautiously surrounded a large bush. Then one hunter would beat the other small bushes nearby to frighten the birds in the mist of the bush.
All thoroughbred horses are descended from but three early 18th century stallions, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.
In normal circumstances, London has 7,500 taxicabs.

Teetsel Expects New Industries in City

Robert E. Teetsel, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, predicted at a noon luncheon meeting Tuesday that the efforts of the chamber's committee to attract new industries to Kingston will show results "in the very near future."

Teetsel, who addressed fellow members of the Kingston Lions Club at their meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel, said that Kingston would be ready with finances and possible sites "if a good firm wanted to locate here tomorrow."

He stressed the need for caution in inviting unknown industries to the city. Careful investigation of a firm's financial status is necessary, he said. Firms willing to take long-term leases are more desirable than those insisting on short-term leases, he added.

Teetsel outlined other activities of the Chamber of Commerce, including its efforts to attract conventions to the city, its promotion of the area as a vacationland, its newly formed community improvement committee, its labor relations committee, its local industry committee, its membership committee and its retail merchants committee. He also told of the chamber's efforts in helping to obtain the Broadway crossing elimination, the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge, the state thruway and the work the chamber did in opposing the New York Central Railroad's petition to remove certain West Shore passenger trains.

Nation Will Get

great-grandchildren and great-grandchildren.
At Plymouth, Mass., townspeople in Puritan garb will march from Plymouth Rock up steep Leyden street to commemorate the country's first Thanksgiving.

Big department store parades to launch the Christmas buying season will mark the day in New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo and elsewhere. Comedian Milton Berle will lead Macy's parade, one of the largest in New York.

Generally mild and fair weather was forecast by the weather bureau although a little light snow was in prospect for the Great Lakes region.

The Labor Department estimated that the average cost of a typical Thanksgiving dinner for a family of four—including turkey and pumpkin pie—would be $5.07, compared with $5.47 last year—and $2.60 in 1941.

Public offices and business places will be closed in most localities and, with only one work day between Thanksgiving and the week-end, thousands of government workers and others who could average it planned to extend the holiday through Sunday.
Railroads put on extra trains and coaches but didn't expect the travel peak of recent years to be equalled.

Ex-Convict Accused

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—An ex-convict accused of holding up a Bronx liquor store was captured last night after an observant taxi driver put detectives on his trail. The suspect, who identified himself as William O'Brien, 23, a steamfitter's apprentice, of 600 West 178th street, was booked on charges of robbery, felonious assault, and violation of the Sullivan Anti-weapon Law. He allegedly held up a liquor store at 11½ West 183rd street, the Bronx, and escaped with $85 taken from the owner, Irving Friedman.

Greer Is Released On Probation After Court Sentencing

James Greer, 23, of Ellenville was given a year in the county jail today by County Judge John M. Cashin on his plea of guilty to having taken a car in Ellenville which belonged to a friend. Execution of the sentence was suspended and Greer was placed on probation. Charles Gaffney appeared for Greer and told the court that the car which was taken by Greer while he was under the influence of liquor had been returned without damage after a trip to Albany. Greer told Judge Cashin the car belonged to a man in the village and he knew the car was parked at the station and had once told the owner he intended to borrow it. Greer said it was the "same old story" too much drinking.

As a condition of probation Judge Cashin directed Greer to keep away from liquor. The cases of Harold and Foster Post were put over until Monday at 2 p. m. Counsel for the Post brothers was engaged in court at Hudson.

The case of Michael Casey was also moved over to Monday at 2 p. m. by Harry Gold, attorney for defendant.

Charles Gaffney also moved the Bernard Mains case over to Monday at 2 p. m. when he said it would be moved for trial.

Civil cases on the calendar were moved over to November 28 at 2 p. m.

Jurors were excused until Monday afternoon and court recessed until Friday at 10 a. m.

Practically blown into the roof and sidewalls of your home, Eagle Insulation will slash your fuel bills as much as 40%. Fire-proof and water-repellent.
And that's not all! In the summer . . . an Eagle Certified Insulation Job will keep inside temperatures up to 15° cooler than outside! No down payment, three years to pay.
Phone today for free survey. No obligation.

FIRST THANKSGIVING STORY . . .
Do you remember when you heard it for the first time . . . that touching story of the Pilgrims, so thankful for a meager harvest wrung from unfriendly soil. In our grown up years and in an America grown up and beautifully rich, let's think of that story and its meaning anew.
